The Vintage Floral Collection

Elanbach will be launching The Vintage Floral Collection during London Design Week, March 2010.

The inspiration for Emma Shuckburgh's new collection came from a visit to a manor house in the Sussex countryside. There were roses around the door, a log fire, garden flowers in jugs and sofas covered in faded florals that looked as if they had been there forever. "I wanted to evoke the relaxed nostalgic feel of this rural idyll".

The collection centres around Compton a sprawling floral that Emma found on a linen hanging from the 1930's.

Elsted is a romantic design of peonies and is named after the village in Sussex where Emma lives with her family under the South Downs.

Petworth is a rambling rose in one colour on a neutral ground

Treyford and Midhurst are large statement floral designs that complete the collection

All designs in the collection are available on Bleached or Natural Linen Union, Cotton Satin or Cotton Fine.
